1) Green Iguanas are native to _____ .

2) Lizards use there tails for many things such as: _____

3) Green Iguanas spend much of their lives up in the _____ .

Challenge: Itchy Iguana

(this idea came from <https://www.kidssoup.com/craft-and-resource/i-for-iguana-and-itch-activities>)

You'll need: Sticky notes, black marker

Preparation: Write the uppercase or lowercase letter i on the sticky notes (3 per child). Review the short "i" sound heard in the word iguana and itchy.

Discuss with children how the iguana uses his feet to scratch his head or body when it has an itch. Let children try to scratch themselves with one foot. Hand out three sticky notes to each child and let them place them anywhere on their body. Explain to children to pretend that they are iguanas and the sticky notes are places that are itchy. Instruct children to get on all fours and try to scratch off the sticky notes using only their feet.
